

Coat of Arms

Bernath

Historiography

The Bernath Coat of Arms illustrated left was drawn by an heraldic artist from information officially recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Documentation for the Bernath Coat of Arms design can be found in Siebmacher's Wappenbuch. Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms.

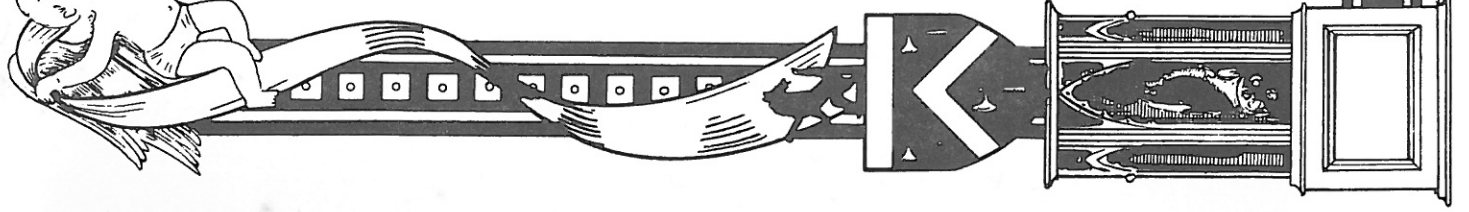

"In B. aus gekronten gr. Boden wachsend, ein r. gekleideter Ungar, mit Pelz besetzter r. Mutze und g. Gurtel, mit daran befestigter # Sabelscheide, in der erhobenen Rechten einen Krummsable mit g. Kreuzesgriffe, in der Linken eine eiserne Zange aufrecht emporhaltend."

Above the shield and helmet is the Crest which is described as:
 "Die Schildfigur, ohne Hugel."
 Family mottos are believed to have originated as battle cries in medieval times.
 A Motto was not recorded with the Bernath Coat of Arms.

Individual surnames originated for the purpose of more specific identification. The four primary sources for second names were: occupation, location, father's name and personal characteristics. The surname Bernath appears to be patronymical in origin, and is believed to be associated with the Germans, meaning, "descendant of Bernhard (as strong as a bear)." The supplementary sheet included with this report is designed to give you more information to further your understanding of the origin of names. Different spellings of the same original surname are a common occurrence. Dictionaries of surnames indicate probable spelling variations. The most prominent variations of Bernath are Bernhard, Bernhart and Bernaths.

Information available to us indicates that in 1971 there were approximately 350 heads of households in the United States with the old and distinguished Bernath name. The United States Census Bureau in 1970 estimated that there were approximately 3.1 persons per household in America which yields an approximate total of 1085 people in the United States carrying the Bernath name. Although the figure seems relatively low, it does not signify the many important contributions that individuals bearing the Bernath name have made to history.

No genealogical representation is intended or implied by this report and it does not represent individual lineage or your family tree.

The love which binds a family together is a miraculous blessing sent from God to give us happiness and to help us recognize our kinship with all the world.

- FOREWARD -

In 1972 the compiler of this record began gathering data on the Bernath family. The facts are true to the best of my knowledge. I would like to say thank you to those who helped in furnishing this information - mainly, Miss Mary Lou Funk, Miss Clara Nofziger and Mrs. Pat (Dennis) Irwin - also each of the cousins who sent me data on their particular branch of the family. It was a tremendous task and this publication would not have been possible without your efforts. A special thanks to my mother, Lucille Fanny (Bernath) Ledyard, for her help and inspiration in this project. It is my hope that this record will be kept up to date as the years go on, by each member of the family that has a copy. Perhaps a future generation will revise it.

Part of this history of the Bernath family begins in Thayngen, Schaffenhaussen, Switzerland with the union of Clemens Bernath and Margaretha Kutzli on December 5, 1811. The original Bernath family home is still in good repair and is owned and lived in by one of the Clemens and Margaretha Kutzli Bernath descendants in Thayngen, Switzerland (located next to the Knorr Soup Co.). Clemens was born April 13, 1788 - died November 8, 1852. Margaretha was born April 11, 1795 - died April 15, 1857.

One of their sons, Johannes Bernath was born October 17, 1822 in Switzerland and came to America in 1848, settling at Lauber Hill. Soon after arriving, he married Susan Meister Kibler, born March 17, 1820 in Schaffenhaussen, Switzerland. Susan had emigrated to this country in the spring of 1834 with her parents Jacob Kibler, Sr. and Susan (Meister) Kibler.

Johannes (John) Bernath died June 4, 1903 and his wife, Susan died April 14, 1903. Both are buried at Lauber Hill Cemetery. Susan's obituary tells that she was a devout member of the New Mennonite Church and a very industrious woman in working indoors or out. After she was 60 years old, she became quite talented in the art of fancy quilting, painting and embroidering. To this marriage of John and Susan were born seven children, three daughters died at an early age. Those surviving at the time of their deaths were: Anna who married Christ Nofziger; Jacob who married Fanny Lauber; John H. who married Mary Grieser; and Mary who married Jacob Weber.

The rest of our history is based on the background of Jacob Bernath's wives. His first wife, Fanny Lauber was born May 16, 1855. She was the daughter of Christian Lauber, Jr. and Catherine Wyse. Christian, Jr. was born in Switzerland on March 9, 1827 and died July 28, 1890. He had emigrated to America in 1834 with his parents: Christian Lauber, Sr. (born in Alsace on October 29, 1796 - died August 14, 1875) and Magdalena Zimmerman, also born in Switzerland. Christian, Jr.'s wife, Catherine was born February 26, 1832 in Lousanne, France and died January 25, 1922. She came to America in 1850. When Catherine arrived in the Lauber Hill area she could only speak French. Since Christian could speak only German he proposed marriage to her through an interperter. They were married shortly after her arrival in 1850.

Jacob's second wife, Ida Bernath was the daughter of Martin Bernath and Ida Rinker (born 1843 - died December 24, 1915). Her grandfather was Konrad Bernath, son of Clemens and Margaretha Kutzli Bernath.

The following information is taken from the book "Out of the Wilderness". On March 8, 1834, Christian Lauber, Sr. and his wife Magdalena Zimmerman, three daughters and one son, of Mulhausen Alsace-Lorraine (a city about eight miles from the northwestern boundary of Switzerland) started for America. Alsace-Lorraine was an area at that time under French control - then Swiss - sometimes part French and the other Swiss. There were several other families traveling to America with the Laubers.

It was in Wayne County, Ohio, even though they lived only fifty miles apart in their motherland, that they met for the first time Jacob and Susan Kibler and their seven children. The latter passed the former enroutte from Switzerland to Wayne County. There were also others in the Kibler group. None of them could afford to buy property in Wayne County, so the men started west - stopping at Lauber Hill. They liked this area, so they proceeded to the land office at Wapakoneta, where they entered 800 acres of land in this general area. Back to Wayne County they went for their families. It took from March 8, 1834 to August 22, 1834 to finish claims to their land in Lauber Hill. The nearest market and doctor was in the town of Napoleon - thirty miles away.

These German and Swiss settlers were Amish Mennonite. They were of three or four national backgrounds, but of one religious body. Settlers that came soon after were Lutherans, Reformed and others became members of the Amish fellowship. Their first church service was held in the 18 x 24 Christian Lauber cabin on Lauber Hill in the fall of 1835.

By 1850 other churches were organized and some of the Amish sons and daughters were leaving the Amish group. Soon there was a division and change in the church due to "schisms" or "defections". The Reformed Mennonite Church was one of the splits that came of the division.

There is a record of Reformed Mennonite Church membership as early as 1853. The ground for the purchase of the church was on May 29, 1965. The original membership list included the following names:

Susan Meister Kibler Bernath
Mr. Christian Lauber
Mrs. Catherine Lauber
Mrs. Fanny Lauber Bernath
Mrs. Ida Bernath Bernath
Mrs. Martin Bernath (Ida's mother)
Emma Bernath Burkholder
Ella Bernath Nofziger

More facts on the history of these early settlers - their way of life - the hardships they endured - can be found in the book "The Sound of the Hammer" by Carl C. Britsch and a sketch of "The Life of Rev. Jacob Binder". I recommend reading both of these if you are interested in the founding of the Lauber Hill area or German Township.

Jacob and Fanny (Lauber) Bernath were married September 27, 1874. To this union ten children were born: Emma, Lewis, Charles, Frank, John, Ella, Harry, Jessie, Ida and Fanny.

Jacob and Ida (Bernath) Bernath were married February 22, 1895. To this union three children were born: Howard, Mabel and Florence.

Fifth child of Jacob and Fanny (Lauber) Bernath

JOHN CHRIST BERNATH

Born August 23, 1882 in German Twp., Fulton Co., Ohio - died of cancer on August 5, 1946 near Tedrow, Ohio. He is buried at Lauber Hill Cemetery. On April 28, 1903 he married Estella Susanna Zimmerman, daughter of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Winters) Zimmerman. She was born February 2, 1885 in Ridgeville, Ohio - died of tuberculosis on March 9, 1913 and is buried at Lauber Hill Cemetery. His grand-daughter, Mary Lou Funk, wrote this about John: "Sickness or bad weather were about all that could keep him from a sunup to sundown day of hard work. It is doubtful that he had a lazy bone or muscle. Most of his life he followed the plow and much of it on his farm southwest of Tedrow, though he spent some slack times at such things as road-building and butchering. As a farmer, his furrows were straight, weeds few, and tools and horses well cared for. A deep sense of responsibility to his family and the satisfaction of work well done seem to have prompted his way of life more than an ambition to accumulate material wealth. To his family he taught by example and brief and pointed precepts the virtues of honesty and kindness to all. His children knew when he said something he meant it. There was firmness--with love, though the affection was communicated more by inward feeling than by outward demonstration. He was serious-minded, perhaps out of experience and necessity, but no complainer. He took his difficulties in stride and appeared to have an inner spiritual strength that though little verbalized was nonetheless real." Their children 7:
